

Contractual Remaining Debt

The contractual remaining debt is the current outstanding capital of a loan.

It is the result of contractual capital changes caused by outbursements or repayments. It considers all capital changes which matured in the past till current posting date.